About the Jan Lancaster Memorial Coach Trip to Wiltshire

You may wonder why this trip is so inexpensive. Well, the reason is that it has been subsidised using part of the legacy left to Mixed Blessings by Jan Lancaster, so I hope you will give Jan a thought as you enjoy the day. Coach seats are unallocated, so if you want to sit in a particular place, I suggest you arrive in good time in order to nab it.

This is the approximate timetable for the visit:

9:00 Leave Lantern Car park

11:00 Arrive at Whitehall Garden Centre

1:00 Leave the garden centre and travel to Caen Hill Locks
(pronounced 'cane' by the way)

3:00 Leave for journey home

5:00 Arrive back at the Lantern.

Timings are only approximate because journey times may alter due to traffic conditions and we may choose to stay longer inside if the weather is wet.

There will be a toilet on board the coach, but I think you should consider it an emergency facility. The Hub will be open before we depart so you will be able to use the facilities in there.

There is a lovely café at the Garden Centre called the Lavender Tea Rooms if you wish to purchase your lunch there. You could bring your own packed lunch, but be aware that the coach will not be staying with us at the garden centre. There are benches at Caen Hill Locks where you could eat a picnic lunch.

I hope you have a lovely day. If you have any questions, just ask.

Derek
